LIMITED PRODUCT WARRANTY

Subject to the terms, conditions, and exclusions contained below, and subject to the EP Cube Products remaining connected to the internet following installation, Eternalplanet Energy warrants to the original end-user (hereinafter referred to as the "Buyer") that EP Cube Products and Accessories shall, during the applicable Warranty Period, (as set out below) be free from defects in materials and workmanship that has caused an adverse effect on product functionality under normal application, installation, use, and service conditions as specified in Eternalplanet Energy's standard product documentation, which includes the Installation

Manual and User Manual.

Eternalplanet Energy warrants that the EP Cube Products & Accessories will maintain their mechanical integrity and stability in accordance with the approved operation methods described in the Eternalplanet Energy Installation Manual.

The Warranty Period under this Limited Product Warranty for EP Cube Products other than Accessories is ten (10) years, and the standard Warranty Period for Accessories is two (2) years, or the minimum warranty period required by any mandatory applicable law in each case starting from the Warranty Effective Date as set out below.

In all cases, the applicable Warranty Period begins on the Warranty Effective Date as defined below.

Claims from the Buyer under the Limited Product Warranty shall be accepted by Eternalplanet Energy only if the malfunctioning or non-conformity of an EP Cube Product or Accessory has resulted exclusively from defects in materials and/or workmanship under normal application, installation, use, and service conditions as specified in Eternalplanet Energy's standard product documentation.

The timeframe for adding a battery to an existing system has been extended to two years. End users can add new batteries to their existing EP Cube system within the first two years after installation. Please note that the warranty date of the existing product will not be extended. Any newly installed battery module will be covered under the remaining warranty period of the existing system (in accordance with the following table in page 9). This means the new battery module will not have a separate or additional warranty extension.

LIMITED PERFORMANCE WARRANTY

In addition, subject to the terms, conditions, and exclusions contained below, and subject to the EP Cube Products remaining connected to the internet following installation, Eternalplanet Energy warrants to the Buyer that each EP Cube Battery Module (Product EP Cube B2-5G4,) will retain at least 80% of its initial capacity (as set out on the product label) until the earlier of the following: (i) the date that is ten (10) years after the Warranty Effective Date set out below; or (ii) the first date on which the EP Cube Battery Module has undergone 6,000 full equivalent charge-discharge cycle* under normal application, installation, use, and service conditions as specified in Eternalplanet Energy's standard product documentation (the "EP Cube Installation Manual", and together with the Limited Product Warranty, the "Limited Warranties").

* A "full equivalent charge-discharge cycle" is a full charge (0% to 100% State of Charge) and a full discharge (100% to 0% State of Charge) of the Battery Module; several partial charges and discharges summed together constitute a full charge and full discharge of the Battery Module.

WARRANTY EFFECTIVE DATE

The "Warranty Effective Date" is defined as commencing (i) six (6) months from the production date of the product as shown on the label; or (ii) the date of installation of the EP Cube Products and Accessories at the location of the original Buyer, whichever is the earlier.

REGISTRATION OF EP CUBE PRODUCTS AND INSTALLATION

For the Buyer to avail the benefits under this Limited Warranty Statement, the EP Cube Products, Accessories, and confirmation of their installation are required to be registered with Eternalplanet Energy within forty-five (45) calendar days after they are installed. Registration should be completed by the installer as part of the installation and commissioning process. Registration is necessary to allow for remote upgrades and monitoring. INTERNET CONNECTIVITY REQUIREMENT

To provide a high level of service and support for the EP Cube Products during the term of the Limited Warranties, Eternalplanet Energy requires all EP Cube Products to be connected to the internet throughout the duration of the Limited Warranty. Internet connectivity is established via the EP Cube Products and can be done by the installer or the Buyer, see the EP Cube Product Installation Manual for more details.

By installing the EP Cube Products and connecting to the internet, the Buyer agrees that Eternalplanet Energy may remotely monitor the use and condition of the EP Cube Product system, including the battery modules, and remotely upgrade the system's software and firmware from time to time without further notice to optimize performance, remove firmware vulnerabilities, and fix potential risks. If the EP Cube Product system loses internet connection for an extended period (i.e., more than sixty (60) calendar days), Eternalplanet Energy may not be able to provide important remote upgrades. In such cases, Eternalplanet Energy will attempt to notify the Buyer using the registered contact details, if possible, and remind the Buyer to reestablish the internet connection.

In such cases, if a claim is received within the warranty period and a fault with the product is discovered due to the fact that Eternalplanet Energy was unable to perform the remote upgrades due to the customer's failure to ensure an internet connection for the EP Cube, the customer will solely be liable for the adverse or negative consequences concerning such vulnerabilities and risks, and Eternalplanet's Standard Limited Warranty cannot be guaranteed. Any statutory warranty remains unaffected.

If the Buyer has any questions regarding connecting EP Cube Products to the internet, the Buyer is required to review the Installation Manual or contact Eternalplanet Energy Customer Service via e-mail.
